

PROPLAS - The Recycling Revolution

Proplas has served the plastic conversion market with quality recycled materials for the past 26 years. John Nield, who founded the company in 1983, has built up a reputation for himself and the company of uncompromising standards, ethical values, service delivery and product quality. In the recycling industry these characteristics are rare, and everyone at Proplas is proud to be associated with a recycler that upholds the true values of green innovation and sustainability – Planet, People, Profit.

Since 2005, when a family investment group acquired Proplas, Proplas has expanded its range and scope considerably, and is now in a position where it is considered the largest and most comprehensive industrial hard-plastic recycler in the country. Its manufacturing capacity exceeds 550 tons a month, with plans to increase this to 700 tons per month within the next quarter. It processes a vast variety of products into usable recycled materials for the plastic conversion market.

Proplas supplies a comprehensive line of products ranging throughout the polymer families – HDPE, LDPE, LLDPE, PP, PET, ABS, HIPS – suitable for a variety of processes, including injection moulding, film blowing, bottle blowing, sheet extrusion, thermoforming, and textile weaving. Limited quantities of colour and clear recycled materials are available, and we endeavour to meet the requirements of our customers.

All of Proplas' products (excluding PET) are extruded and pelletised in our state-of-the-art manufacturing facility to ensure the highest quality. We utilise Hollander weave screens in all of our extruders, which are renowned for the purity they provide. We have employed on-line quality tests as well as a guarantee on our products. We will credit customers for material returned to us if it does not suit their process or quality standards – with the understanding that recycled materials are only suitable for certain products and processes.

In essence, Proplas is a relationship based business, and we believe that the true value is unlocked when dealing from positions of trust and understanding. We look forward to building new relationships with companies who wish to receive a quality product from or who wish to sell recyclable materials to a reputable and honourable recycler. The recycling industry has been marred with broken promises, fly-by-night operations, payment delays, communication breakdowns and disreputable dealers – we are proud to say that we have broken away from the pack and wish to do business on a professional, transparent, and honest basis. Our client and supplier list includes many of the leading companies in South Africa – SAB-Miller, Distell, Usabco (manufacturers of the Addis range), Mondi Packaging and Nampak.

All of our customers have found value in using recycled materials through cost-effectiveness, sustainability, and the ability to compete in a global market.
